TWELVE PAGES—THREE CENTS

Final Settlement Is Sought Today In GMC Parley With Workers

Detroit, Feb. 15.—(AP)—General Motors Corporation, many of its productive lines already humming in a drive to regain output lost during prolonged strikes, will seek tomorrow a final settlement of issues with the United Automobile Workers of America.

Only two of eight union demands—collective bargaining and union recognition—were settled in the agreement that ended the strikes last Thursday. Six others remain for negotiations starting tomorrow morning.

HOFFMAN WARNS AGAINST USE OF 'SIT-DOWNERS'

Says He Will Not Tolerate It In State Of New Jersey

Lewis Refuses to Comment on Governor's Statement

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 15.—(P)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman warned organizers for John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization today he would use "the entire resources of the state" to prevent seizure of company property through "sit-down" strikes.

His statement, issued a few hours after formation of the "North Jersey Council for Industrial Organization," brought from Julius Emspak, 32-year-old C. I. O. leader, a challenge that the committee would "move in on" New Jersey and "use every weapon at our disposal."

Emspak, charging New Jersey was "a huge open shop territory drawing anti-labor shops and factories from adjacent states," said the C. I. O. had enlisted "about eight or nine" New Jersey unions and expected "three or four more before the end of the week."

Governor Hoffman, promising cooperation with labor "to secure greater benefits for itself and its members," said seizure of company property by striking employees would be absolutely lawless and its occurrence and continuation in disregard of law and order would be impossible to tolerate.

"A labor union has no more right to take possession of a factory than a band of gangsters has to take possession of a bank," he said.

"The avoidance of the possibility of bloodshed is, of course, desirable but not at the expense of surrender to those guilty of such criminal acts. In order that the organizations to which I have referred may not be misled into attempting here the same conduct by which they claim to have achieved some success, and for which they have obtained immunity in Michigan, let them be warned in advance that such conduct will not be tolerated or permitted by the people of this state, nor by the government which they have set up for their protection and the administration of their affairs."

Lewis in Washington, declined to comment on the governor's statement.

AT CAIRO

ACCORD REACHED ON ENLISTMENTS IN SPANISH WAR

Europe Agrees To Stop

Volunteers By March 6

Portugal Faces Blockade For Refusal to Comply

London, Feb. 15.—(P)—Europe's major powers lined up tonight in an agreement to try to keep foreign volunteers from entering strife-torn Spain after March 6.

They acted in the face of Portugal's continued refusal to cooperate. Informal persons said if Portugal maintained that stand, it was likely she would be subjected to a naval blockade to prevent foreigners entering Spain through her territory.

Representatives of Great Britain, France, Italy, Germany and Russia, which with Portugal form a sub-committee of international "hands-off-Spain" group, agreed at a meeting that all the 27 countries on the committee must complete plans for controlling the influx of foreign fighters by midnight Saturday, Feb. 20.

The complete control program to isolate the civil war, they agreed, must become effective March 6.

Portugal's delegate said he awaited a decision by his government, which has turned a deaf ear to the plan thus far.

Informed sources asserted there was little doubt the full committee would ratify the sub-committee's decision at a meeting called for 3:30 p. m. tomorrow.

If Portugal continued in her refusal to participate, they declared, the other powers would go right ahead in arranging to blockade her coast as well as that of Spain to make the plan effective.

The naval patrol program resulted from the refusal of both the Valencia government and the insurgent administration to permit neutral observers to be stationed on their territory.

The ships, while having no authority to stop and search suspected vessels, would report their movements to the international committee and governments would be asked to penalize the owners.

Ships enroute to Spain would be compelled to stop at certain ports where committee representatives would examine them to ascertain that they contained neither war materials nor volunteers.

French Premier Leon Blum's suddenly belligerent stand regarding Italian aid to the Spanish insurgents was believed to have influenced the sub-committee to take serious action.

Blum, in Paris, warned Italy that France will not tolerate the "open invasion of Spain," asserting French patience is being taxed near the point of independence of action.

Two British destroyers, the Havock and the Gypsy, fired on an airplane, believed to be an insurgent Spanish plane, which attempted to bomb them off the coast of Algeria, London officials sources said.

Whitehall then dispatched immediate, vigorous protests to insurgent authorities at Palma, Mallorca, and to the seat of the insurgent administration at Salamanca, Spain.

Sea Hero to Be Amelia Earhart's World Flight 'Crew'

With Capt. Harry Manning, hero of several daring sea rescues, as her navigator, Amelia Earhart, lower left, will have less to worry about on her round-the-world air flight, scheduled to start from Los Angeles in March. Chosen for the world flight was Miss Earhart's twin-motored "flying laboratory," shown in top photo with its famous owner on the wing. WORK IN PLANTS AFTER RIOTS AT ANDERSON, IND.

Men Hide Feud As City Is Peaceful Under Troops

Anderson, Ind., Feb. 15.—(P)—Hiding their feud, which flared into violence Saturday and brought military rule to Anderson, union and non-union automotive craftsmen marched peacefully today to their jobs at the Guide Lamp and Delco-Remy divisions of General Motors.

With tension, easing, Col. Albert H. Whitcomb granted permission to the United Automobile Workers of America to hold two meetings, one under the military rule, and to distribute their publications. Colonel Whitcomb commands the troops.

National Guardsmen, bayonets fixed, patrolled the streets around the two plants as about 2,400 employees resumed work in the Guide Lamp factory, scene of a recent "sit down" strike and about 7,000 workers returned to jobs in the Delco-Remy plant.

The guard was increased tonight as shifts in the factories changed. Colonel Whitcomb said his troops reported no disturbances.

Citizens went about their business as usual, except that they could not buy liquor under the martial rule. Union leaders, after obtaining Colonel Whitcomb's approval, planned a meeting of their strategy board and a session of their Woman's Auxiliary. Colonel Whitcomb agreed also that they might distribute 3,000 copies of the United Automobile Workers Journal and the union's local mimeographed publication.

Victor Reuther, youthful union organizer, said he was "elated" at granting of these requests.

He complained, however, that thirteen union men arrested Saturday were being held in jail without bond. Colonel Whitcomb answered that military authorities were proceeding as rapidly as possible to investigate what part, if any, the prisoners had in Saturday's clash, in which ten men were wounded.

The Michigan national guard, on strike duty here since rioting Jan. 11 near a strike-occupied body plant, gave evidence its high command believed the long industrial dispute was over. Three infantry battalions received orders to entrain for their homes before noon Tuesday.

Mayor Harold Bradshaw, virtual dictator of the city under emergency powers conferred by the city commission, said he would recommend that the commission formally declare the state of emergency ended.

Flint's longest strike continued, however. Robert Hosmer, chairman of the Flint Association of Bus and Trolley Coach drivers, announced late today that a group of 80 drivers who have been on strike since Dec. 8 had "rejected unanimously" a proposal that they return to work at their former wage scale of 60 cents an hour pending a non-partisan inquiry.

The strikers are demanding 75 cents an hour. The proposal called for an inquiry by representatives named by Governor Frank Murphy.

In the General Motors plants today, outward evidences of jubilation which had accompanied evacuation of three factories by sit-down strikers gave way to an attitude of watchful waiting. In the Chevrolet motor assembly unit, first of the captive units to resume production, men wearing union buttons worked silently beside non-union neighbors.

Plant police were re-enforced for the reopening, union officials charging hundreds of employees were removed from their regular jobs for protective duty. In Chevrolet plant No. 9, scene of a riot two weeks ago, employees worked behind sheet-iron barriers, broken windows not yet being replaced.

Convicts Speed on In Stolen Auto; Release 3 Hostages Unharmed

Vass, N. C., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Seven convicts who escaped from the Caledonia prison farm 200 miles northeast of here this morning released three hostages unharmed near here tonight and sped on southward in their stolen cream colored sedan.

As hundreds of officers scoured swamps 150 miles east of here in the Bailey sector, the seven fugitives, having eluded all pursuit, told Captain I. D. Hinton of Caledonia, Stewart, W. L. Roberts and Walter H. Willard, 19-year-old Raleigh youth, "get out and get."

Robert Smith, a convicted murderer, set off the chase about 9 o'clock this morning when he covered Captain Hinton with a pistol in a cell block and paraded him into the prison gunroom where the mutineers, three of them convicted killers, armed themselves with pistols and a guard's shotgun.

They slipped telephone lines at the prison and battered off in a prison truck, but swapped that vehicle for automobiles they commandeered two or three times in the long flight.

The prisoners with Hinton and Roberts headed toward Virginia, then doubled back westward toward Louisville. En route they took two cars, one being driven by Willard, and forced Willard to accompany them. First reports had it that the youth's father, George S. Willard, also was abducted.

From Louisville the prisoners headed southwest toward Nashville and Bailey and there patrolmen lost the trail.

Airplanes, scores of county officers and 75 highway patrolmen had joined in the search.

A few minutes after 7 o'clock tonight Hinton, Roberts and Willard arrived here, having been picked up by a motorist two and a half miles from town.

Officers throughout this entire section and in South Carolina were notified to be on the lookout for "dangerous" men.

Though penal division officers saw no connection between the two escapes, a general order to stop all convict road work in the east was issued this afternoon after two men serving terms for slayings escaped from the Camp Polk farm at Raleigh.

Tonight's bloodhounds ran the two men on New River, near Raleigh. They were Buster Caldwell, convicted in Haywood county and Chester Barnes, sentenced in Camden.

Captain Hinton did the talking here tonight for the three released hostages.

"They treated us mighty nice," he said. "They didn't harm us at all. They didn't tie us up or hurt us."

The president proposed that he be given power to name one new judge for each judge past 70 who failed to retire.

At the White House Mrs. Roosevelt entered the fray with a statement of opposition to the program apparently arose from upper middle class persons opposed to social legislation.

In the midst of these exchanges, the opposition camp in Congress offered a compromise constitutional amendment requiring the retirement of federal judges at the age of 75, while influential Senate Democrats pushed a House approved bill permitting retirement at full pay at 70.

The amendment idea was advanced by Senator Burke (D-Neb) who early took a leading position among those opposing the president's proposal. He said the "only proper way" to change the present system of life tenure judgeships was to submit an amendment "to the people" fixing a definite retirement age.

Compromise was impossible, he said, on the president's demand that when aged members of the supreme court insist upon serving, additional members be appointed to a maximum of fifteen.

He saw no hope in various proposals for a compromise limiting such additional appointments to one or two.

"It is just as much a violation of the independence of the judiciary to add one as to add six or a dozen," he said.

Meanwhile, Senator McCarran (D-Nev) with the reported backing of the Democratic leadership, was endeavoring to obtain quick enactment of the retirement bill approved last week by the House, in the hope that this might encourage one or two retirements from the supreme bench and thereby ease the present tension.

The crowd overflowed a glittering dining room in Mayflower hotel. (Tables were placed in two smaller rooms and a lobby to care for all those who wanted to eat guinea hen at $10 a plate with the Democratic leader.)

The president said it was not a political party or a victory gathering or "even a gathering to hatch some mysterious plot or pull off a coup d'etat."

School-Minded

Jacksonville and Morgan county school districts have established a record during the last few years that is cheering to friends of education. There is not a single instance in which a proposition designed to improve or expand the school system has been defeated at the polls.

This may be due to a recognized need for the improvements—certainly Jacksonville voters were agreed that the old Lafayette grade school building should be replaced—but the record of staunch support of all measures probably lies in the public's realization of the part education plays in community life.

Just last week voters in two Morgan county districts were called upon to decide questions pertaining to school expenditures and expansion. In both instances the propositions were approved, carrying out the disposition of the public to lend a helping hand whenever educational standards are threatened.

Meredosia citizens authorized construction of a new high school building by issuing bonds up to $40,000, supplemented by a $25,000 grant which is expected to be obtained from the government. The vote was convincing, 264 ballots being cast for the proposition and 114 against it.

Last Saturday the citizens of Waverly and community voted on the question of annexing territory to the community high school district. While little reason could be advanced against the proposition, its support was remarkable. Only 4 votes were cast against the proposition.

Jacksonville school district patrons something more than a year ago voted to erect the new Lafayette grade school building, now near completion.

A few months ago Chapin citizens approved the issuance of bonds and the building of a new high school.

More recently, Jacksonville citizens voted to increase the educational tax rate to permit a restoration of teachers' salaries, slashed during the years of depression.

The policy of supporting educational issues is by no means limited to Morgan county. A half dozen or more surrounding communities have authorized new additions or buildings within the last two years. The fact that government assistance is available is a strong argument, no doubt, but the districts have stood ready to provide their share of funds.

"We want economical government; we want tax reductions where possible; but these must not be accomplished at the expense of our school system," seems to be the sentiment of the average man and woman.

The record of citizens in school elections in recent years is one of constructive progress. Education will benefit through the public's ability to grasp the need of improvements and give them united support.

Boosting For The Guard

Jacksonville a number of years ago permitted a National Guard unit to disband, largely because of lack of interest.

Bloomington this week is carrying on an intensive campaign to provide itself with a National Guard company. That is the way with communities—what some cities don't want, others are eager to get.

We remember the struggle of the old Howitzer company to keep its ranks recruited to full strength. At times it made headway, but eventually interest descended to such low ebb that the organization went out of existence.

Captain Wesley R. James was the man who led the fight to retain the Howitzer company. He made frequent appeals for recruits, tried in vain to revive interest in the troop and keep it for Jacksonville. But response was discouraging.

There was a time when Jacksonville could muster more than 60 uniformed, well-trained men for participation in patriotic and public events. In times of emergency, the guardsmen could be called together immediately. On several occasions the local unit was called to other parts of the state to quell disturbances.

Bloomington apparently realizes the advantages of being the home of a National Guard troop. Such an organization brings considerable cash in payrolls into a community each year. Each member of the troop draws remuneration for drill sessions, and larger amounts for daily service.

Bloomington business men are pushing the campaign for a guard troop. A committee of eleven men representing business, professional, labor and administration agencies recently conferred with Adjutant General Carlos E. Black in Springfield.

Adjutant General Black told the committee that Illinois applied for an additional allotment of guardsmen in 1937. He said the last Congress authorized an increase of 5,000 men in the National Guard and Illinois received a part of its allotment in 1936 and additional increases are expected to be approved this year.

Cities large enough to support a National Guard troop seldom have trouble in obtaining them. It is the local interest and support, however, that keeps the units alive.

Prisoners For Life

The world loves the Dionne quintuplets. It is with sadness that the world realizes these charming little girls must be prisoners for life.

Fear of kidnapping has again been aroused. Whether an actual threat has been made against the world's five most famous babies is not known. But precautions must be taken at all times.

Armed guards march to and fro before the stronghold of the quintuplets. An eight foot wall protects the quints from danger.

The Dionne quints have never lived as normal children, and never will. Fame, not of their own asking, has made them prisoners for life.

What would the kidnapping of one or more of the quints mean? It would set the world afire with indignation and vengeance.

The Canadian government would throw every law enforcement agency into action; the United States and other countries would join.

Millions of dollars would be raised, if need be, to find the missing children and to run down their abductors.

The quintuplets may never be snatched from their home, but the danger will always cause vigilance.

Armed guards will protect the Dionnes as long as they live, and the quintet remains intact.

The quintuplets no doubt will live lives of happiness. Everything will be done for their welfare and comfort. But the shadow of fear will hover over their careers.

They will be watched, guarded, protected as no other children have been.

Missouri's Sales Tax

There is a one cent sales tax now in force in Missouri. The present measure of the legislature has a pending bill for increasing the rate to 2 cents on the dollar.

Hearings were appointed for those who wished to speak on this bill, and curiously enough, nobody appeared.

Representatives of the State Retail Merchants' association which opposed the first sales tax when it was imposed in 1934, were absent from the hearings on the increased rate bill. Representatives of union labor, which was also in opposition three years ago, failed to send speakers for the hearing on the proposed 2 cent bill.

There were some speakers present to advise certain changes in the administrative features of the tax bill, and several others asking for exemptions from the tax on certain goods and commodities. But to the general principle of the 2 cent tax, there appeared no organized opposition.

The absence of such opposition is generally accredited to the belief by the people that the increased tax is necessary. Merchants are looking to state officials to furnish them with arguments to that they can face customers and tell them: "No other way is possible."

Busy Times Ahead

Factory employment in the tri-cities as of Feb. 1 hit all time high of 24,690, according to the Rock Island Argus.

The previous top figure, exclusive of world war activity at the Rock Island arsenal, was in May, 1936 when the total was just over 24,000. The figure for Jan. 1 was 21,500, which reveals a neat gain of 3,190 for a single month.

The Argus goes on to say that the great majority of the men are employed in the plants of Deere & Company, International Harvester, Minneapolis-Moline Power Company and others on the Illinois side of the Mississippi river.

Glancing at these figures one might form a snap opinion that no one but the tri-cities is going to profit from this renewed manufacturing activity. But there must be a need for these farm implements, or the factories wouldn't be turning them out in large numbers.

It appears that agriculture, too, is getting back into harness. The thousands of new implements that are being built in the tri-cities will be shipped to all sections of the country. They will be used on countless farms to carry on the nation's biggest business, that of farming.

When the plow, cultivator and combine makers get to work, it means the farmers are looking forward to a busy season. The 'smoke pouring from those upstate factories is a signal that flashes to all corners of the agricultural belt.

Like to Count Noses

The recent demand for a census of unemployed provokes the thought that we are a statistical-minded people. We like to count people, gather up business data, assemble figures from which to draw factual conclusions for the better guidance of the nation.

The U. S. Census Bureau continues to be the greatest statistical organization in this country. Day in and day out, a large number of people are busy checking information, making up tables and telling us about ourselves.

The first census taken in 1790 when we had but 4 million people required 18 months. The enumerators or census takers traveled by foot and on horseback, swam swollen streams, fought Indians and had to undergo many hardships in the business of counting noses.

At that time New York City had but 33,000 people and Detroit was so small they didn't even bother to count the folks up there. The western boundary at that time was the Mississippi river.

Now we have 128 million people and it takes only 30 days to take a census, but the time spent in preparation for a census is much longer.

From the census takers we learn a lot of things. They have figured out that there is a birth in the United States every 14 seconds, a death every 22 seconds, an immigrant every 15 minutes, an emigrant every 14 minutes, all of which makes a net gain in population of one person every 35 seconds. So you see the country is still growing.

Here's a question for the arithmetic wizards. At this rate of gain, if it remained constant, how many people would we gain from the time you read this until January 1, 1950?

Development of Meningitis Serum Was Great Medical Achievement

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

In diagnosing meningitis, a doctor not only studies the symptoms, and the history of the patient, which may indicate that he has been in contact with the infection, but he also obtains specimens of the spinal fluid and examines it for signs that indicate irritation and for germs.

In time of epidemic outbreaks, doctors not only examine victims' spinal fluid, but they also frequently study secretions of the nose and throat to determine whether germs are present.

Since these germs also can invade the blood, it is occasionally wise to examine the blood, as well and to determine not only whether it contains germs but also whether the blood has begun to develop the anti-substances by means of which the body opposes this disease.

During an epidemic many germs may be found in the throats of persons who have been in contact with cases but who are not themselves sick with meningitis. Under ordinary circumstances, the germs would be found only rarely in the nose and throat of normal persons. Because the disease may be spread by such germ carriers, it is customary in times of epidemic to limit overcrowding, to insure adequate ventilation, and to keep those who may be carriers out in the sunshine and open air as much as possible.

Various attempts to disinfect the nose and throat by applying antiseptics of one kind or another have been without success.

One of the great discoveries in modern medicine has been the development of the serum now used in the treatment of typical meningococcal meningitis.

Most of our knowledge of the value of serum treatment is due to Simon Flexner of the Rockefeller Institute, who prepared serums from the goat, horse, rabbit, and guinea pig in 1907, and who also studied the disease in monkeys.

He prepared the serum of the present type by injecting into horses, at weekly intervals, the germs and their products. The serum taken from the horses then was used for the treatment of persons afflicted with the disease.

As I have already pointed out, more than 60 per cent of those infected with meningitis in the New York epidemic of 1904-05 died of the condition. With the use of the serum, more than 70 per cent of 1,300 patients recovered.

If the serum is given quite early and in sufficient amounts, the percentage of recoveries is still greater. There are fewer relapses, too, and practically no chronic cases, after proper serum treatment.

Because the infection affects primarily the coverings of the spinal cord and the brain, direct injection of the serum into the spinal fluid and in those cases affecting the brain, into the brain fluid, if of exceptional value. It is aided by additional injections of the serum directly into the blood.

It seems quite likely that meningitis germs which are living organisms occasionally modify in nature and, that, from time to time, it is necessary to prepare new types of germs. Modern scientific laboratories take this into account.

Thirteen years ago on March 11th Miss McCarty organized the Business Woman's Bible class with fourteen charter members. The class will celebrate its anniversary with a banquet to be held at the Peacock Inn on March 11th this year.

The gift which the class presented their teacher was a very fine new water heater for her automobile. The presentation came as a complete surprise to Miss McCarty, who, in a few words, expressed her sincere thanks to the class.

Jerseyville Elks Plan Annual Meet

Mid-Winter Carnival and Free Dance Set For February 22

Jerseyville—The Jerseyville Elks winter carnival and free dance will be held the evening of Tuesday, Feb. 22nd, in the Elks hall on West Pearl street.

The committee in charge of the arrangements consists of the following members of the local lodge: Dr. B. Caffery, Robert E. Flynn, Fred Jacobs, Arch D. Nelson, Dr. H. H. Seeley, G. Russel Schwarz, Ivan Heiderscheid, John Gibbons, Carl Thatcher, Thomas G. Adams, George Cockerel and Francis Walsh.

The committee has arranged a program calculated to please all ages, and among the prizes to be awarded will be a Chevrolet town sedan.

Music for the evening will be furnished by Carol Peters orchestra of Alton.

Jersey county wheat is generally in good condition on lands not exhibiting a great degree of sheet erosion. On areas subjected to erosion of the sheet type, much damage has ensued as a result of the recent heavy flood rains prevailing in the locality during the past month.

Winter rye is exhibiting a favorable condition. A large acreage was planted in rye last fall to furnish pasture after the great drought of the 1936 summer in this locality.

Experiments with the crop during the 1935-1936 winter revealed its desirability. At the Watson Randolph farm, a tract planted to rye that season furnished fall and spring pasture, and when threshed averaged forty bushels of grain to the acre. The ground rye raised here has been found to serve as one of the best substitutes for corn, as a livestock ration.

Recalls Assassination
Joseph M. Page, veteran Jerseyville, Ill., editor, recalled Saturday vividly the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln.

"We had fought the last battle at Blakeley and Spanish Fort had surrendered. Our rations we divided with the Johnnies and that night we shared our blankets with them. I recall sleeping with a Johnny at my side under my blanket."

"Then came the news that Lincoln had been assassinated, and a riot broke out among the Union forces. We felt that the assassination of Lincoln was a rebel plot, not knowing at the time that it was a personal idea of one individual."

"I was a sergeant, and all officers were called into riot service to subdue the rank and file of the men who sought to start a riot and burn and pillage the south."

"The feeling among all the soldiers of the Union forces with whom I was serving was one of bitterness, until the truth of the assassination was learned."

Page will celebrate the 92nd anniversary of his birth in May, and is one of two Civil War veterans surviving in Jersey county.

FIREMEN ANSWER TWO CALLS SUNDAY MORNING

The fire department made two runs within 15 minutes Sunday morning, responding to an alarm at 9:35 a. m. at 531 Sheridan street where an automobile caught on fire, and at 9:45 a. m. to the residence of W. Damage resulting from fire was negligible.

RECIPES TO END CONSTIPATION

Every woman can protect her family from common constipation by careful menu planning. Often the cause of illness from constipation is lack of "bulk" in the diet.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies this "bulk" in generous quantity. You can use ALL-BRAN in so many delightful ways. As a ready-to-eat cereal with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. Or make delicious bran muffins and breads—put it into griddle cakes, salads or soups, or over other cereals.

Just be sure each member of your family gets two tablespoonfuls every day—and forget the illness caused by constipation. Serve three times daily, in severe cases.

You can also forget pills and drugs that nobody likes to take—and that so often fail unless the dose is constantly increased.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to help tone the intestines, and iron for the blood. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

When Hitler Disowned War Onus

Virtually scrapping the entire Versailles peace treaty by his action, Fuehrer Adolf Hitler (pointed out by arrow), stood before a cheering Reichstag on the fourth anniversary of his rise to power and denounced the clause by which Germany had accepted sole blame for the World War. Hitler and his audience are pictured at salute as the national anthem brought his address to a close.

Former Resident of Murrayville Called By Death in City

Harvey U. Osborne Expires at Home in South Jacksonville Sunday Morning

Harvey Uriah Osborne passed away Sunday morning, February 14, 1937, at his home at 1534 South Main street, Jacksonville, following a lingering illness, at the age of 72 years, 11 months and 24 days.

Mr. Osborne was born near Murrayville, February 20, 1864, and was the son of James and Maria Osborne. He spent the greater part of his life in the Murrayville community where he followed the occupation of farming. A few years ago he suffered a paralytic stroke from which he never fully recovered.

Recently he lived in Springfield for two years, but had returned to his home on South Main street, Jacksonville, for some years before his death.

February 10, 1892, he was united in marriage with Augusta Kitter of Murrayville, and to this union one daughter, Mrs. Gladys Clemons, was born.

He is survived by his widow and the only daughter who lives in Springfield, Illinois; two brothers, H. C. Osborne and James E. Osborne, both of Jacksonville, Illinois; another brother, Robert Osborne, Bozeman, Montana, and still another brother, Robert Osborne, of Jerome, Idaho. He also has one surviving sister, Mrs. Julia Sullivan of Murrayville, Illinois.

In early life he joined the Greasy Prairie Methodist church, later transferring his membership to the Murrayville M. E. church, where his membership remained until he passed away. The funeral will be held at the M.E. church in Murrayville this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be in the Murrayville cemetery.

The Misses Laura and Marguerite McCullough, and George Baker, all of Springfield, visited friends here Saturday.

County Grade School Basketball Championship Meet Opens Tonight

J. H. S. Seeks Victory Over Cathedral In Springfield Tonight; Rout At Tallula

Games Tonight
Rout at Tallula.
J. H. S. at Cathedral.

Jacksonville high's Crimson will try to get back into winning stride against Springfield teams tonight when Coach Frank Walker takes two squads to the capital city for a game with the Cathedral high team while Routt will attempt to avenge an earlier defeat and at the same time stretch their present winning streak at Tallula high.

The Crimson, warned yesterday that Illinois School for the Deaf expects to be out of quarantine in time to play their scheduled game on the David Prince boards Saturday night, have three tough opponents coming up this week. Routt, likewise, has anything but a rosy schedule ahead.

The Tigers were scheduled to go to Mt. Pulaski tonight, but Dr. Dan Cloud said yesterday that the quarantine which has stopped all basketball games but not basketball activity on the I.S.D. campus, might be lifted this week in time to play games with Converse in Springfield Friday night and J.H.S. Saturday night.

Looking for Action

The Crimson are looking for action tonight, and they'll have their regular starting line-up ready to throw at the Cathedral club. The Crimson thumped Cathedral here, bringing to three the number of their victories over Springfield teams, but the string was broken when they faltered before Feitshans on their initial excursion to Springfield.

Coach Walker said he probably would use Ketter and Leeper forwards, Baptist, center, Abell and Johnston guards. Johnston returned to the line-up Monday night after shaking off a threatening cold. Dick Baldwin, who led the Crimson scoring against Waverly, is almost certain to get a bit of action.

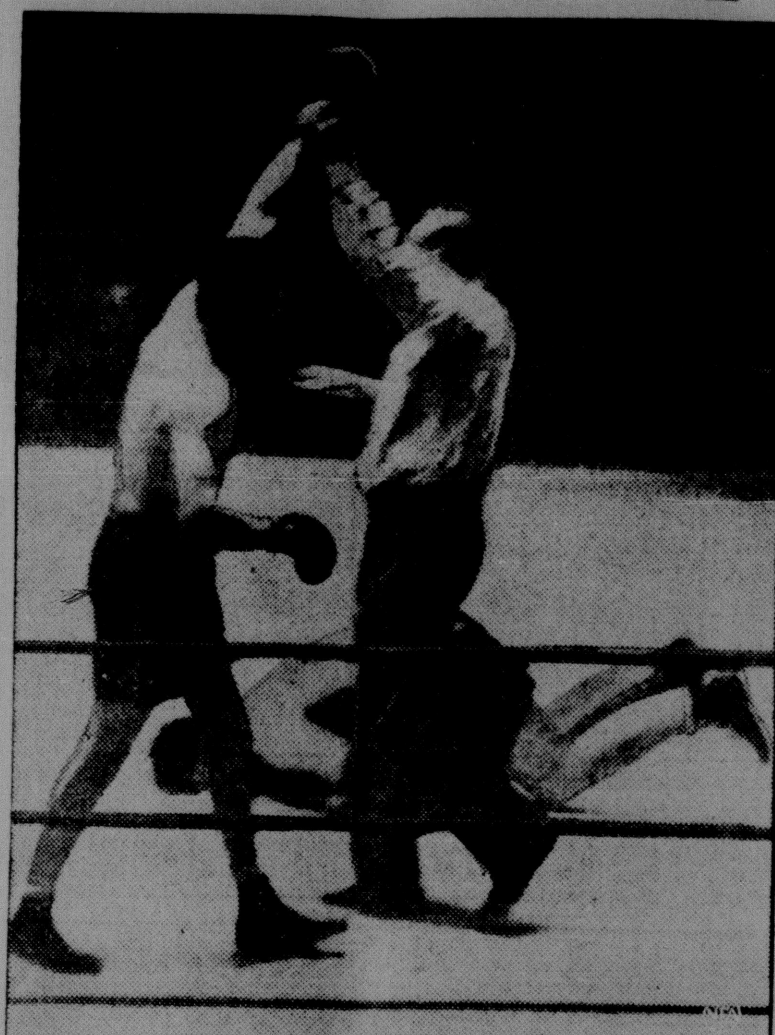

The Crimson coach will take both his varsity squad of ten men and his freshman sophomore squad of ten men to Springfield for a double header. The Freshman-sophomore team has a season's record of 11 wins and nine defeats thus far.

Rockets Abroad

Routt's Rockets, after knocking off two highly touted foes last week, is looking ahead to gaining a bit of revenge at Tallula tonight. Then they go to Quincy Academy Friday night where they would like to register a victory over the Quincy Little Hawks, boomed as the Catholic champions of the state this year, and the following night they will meet White Hall.

Bernard Perry, Routt center, didn't attend practice yesterday, but Coach Wallace Baptist expected him to be available for tonight's game. Shanahan and Greg Gattens will be the forwards and Hanley and Harmon will be the guards.

The newest heavyweight find is a former Hollywood high school student and Bakersfield cowhand.

Friday—White Hall at Greenfield; Pleasant Hill at Winchester; Carrollton at Jerseyville; Griggsville at Pittsfield.

Saturday—Roodhouse at Winchester; Murrayville at Jerseyville; Griggsville at Perry; White Hall at Routt.

White Hall has practically clinched the Southern Division Illinois Valley championship, and Pittsfield has it within its grasp in the Northern Division, as the basketball campaign wings its way into the last full week of competition. Next week the district tournaments will begin, and the week after that will be the regional tournaments.

White Hall has only two games to go, one with Greenfield this week and one with Carrollton next week. A victory in either of these games will assure the Maroons of the title. Pittsfield has only one game, with Griggsville this week between it and a title. Pleasant Hill could tie the Saukees if they win from Winchester and Griggsville turns back the Indians.

Other conferences also are offering some outstanding games this week end. Waverly and Franklin will meet in a Little Six conference game. Bath will go to Ashland for a West Central loop contest, Chandlerville and Virginia mix in another West Central combat, and Perry invades Milton for a Pike county loop game to night.

Other games Friday night include: Tallula at Franklin.
Virginia at Pleasant Plains.
Bath at Mt. Sterling.
Rushville at Ashland.
Nebo at Milton.
Waverly at Virden.
Modesto at Chapin.
Chandlerville at Petersburg.

Young Hebrew Will Battle With Louis

Ten Round Bout is Set For This Wednesday Night

Kansas City—(P)—So confident that even his manager is perplexed, Natie Brown wound up his training today for his 10-round fight with Joe Louis Wednesday night.

Brown, a 200-pound Washington, D. C. Hebrew, is one of the few boxers to have stayed the limit with Louis since the Detroit negro turned professional two and a half years ago. Louis won the decision in 10 rounds in Detroit two years ago.

Questioned in his dressing room after yesterday's workout Brown replied, "I certainly don't fear him. If anything, it is the other way around."

Jim McNamara, football line coach at Georgetown University who is here serving as Brown's trainer, said Brown is confident of winning because of his triumph over Johnny Whittier, Pontiac, Mich., negro in Detroit last December.

"Around Detroit, fans were saying that Whittier would lick Louis. Then Brown came in and drubbed Whittier, cut him to ribbons," McNamara said.

WOLVERINE SPRINTER NO LONGER "SECOND"

Ann Arbor, Mich.—(P)—Fleet Sammy Stoller, a fast lad on the cinder path in his own right, has been discarded that second fiddle he has been lugging around these several seasons.

The University of Michigan ace sprinter, until now generally finding the track summaries in the sprints reading "Second, Stoller," has darted ahead, at this date, of the country's leading sprinter.

All this partly because Jesse Owens, his rival from high school days in Cleveland, through college and into the Olympics, has turned professional.

Friends say Stoller's persistence is another reason.

Sammy, black-haired Jewish youth who once admitted he saw "perhaps more of Jesse Owens' back than anybody else," is making a bid for national recognition, with his Saturday night victory in the Boston games as a starter.

Stoller's victory was the high spot in a career heretofore frustrated alone by Owens. They raced in rival teams in high school and the negro always won, except once.

The Wolverine sprinter, who has run the 100-yard dash in .096 and year of competition left at Michigan, year of competition left at Michigan. He also is a broad jumper.

4 Games To Inaugurate First Annual on David Prince Court Here; Eight Games In Tourney

Games Tonight
6:30 p.m.—South Jacksonville vs. Murrayville
7:20 p.m.—Waverly vs. St. Patricks
8:10 p.m.—Chapin vs. Woodson
9:00 p.m.—David Prince vs. Franklin

With their defenses polished and their attacks geared to produce points, eight county grade school teams tonight will open the first annual County and Courier Morgan county basketball tournament on the David Prince court. Four games, bringing in to action all of the entries will be on the program for tonight, beginning at 6:30 p. m., when South Jacksonville and Murrayville blast off the lid.

SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT

Four musical youngsters will keep the crowd entertained while the basketball teams are getting their breath between the halves of the last three games. Donald Henry and Mildred Spradlin, pupils of the Jefferson school, who sing to the accompaniment of a guitar, and "Buddy" Dixon, a young mandolin player who will be accompanied by his father, Hanaable Dixon, will present several numbers during the intermissions. The talent for the program is being furnished by the Morgan County Recreation Project.

Admission to the tournament will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for students.

All of the arrangements were completed for the tournament yesterday. Doors to the gymnasium will be thrown open at six o'clock, and teams competing in the first game can be seen taking their warming up tosses as soon thereafter as is deemed advisable by the coaches. The first game will start promptly at 6:30 p. m., and from then on until the final things will be kept moving.

Illinois School for the Deaf, one of the schools which planned to enter a team in the tournament, was unable to do so because of the quarantine which has blanketed all state institutions since the first of the year. The quarantine remained in effect, Dr. Dan Cloud said yesterday.

Field Wide Open
Dopesters have been slow in coming forth with predictions as to which team will win the title. Chapin gained some momentum by defeating South Jacksonville Saturday 9 to 8, but it was only the third loss in about a dozen games for the South Jacksonville team. Jane Wright's squad lost each of its three games by one point decisions.

South Jacksonville seemed to be one of the favorites despite its loss to Chapin, but the suburban grade school lads profess a wholesome fear of the Murrayville lads, their first opponents.

Waverly, likewise, ranks as a favorite, because of two tall boys who are playing on their team. St. Patricks dropped a 17-0 decision to David Prince sometime ago, but since that time they have been re-organized, and some of the boys who were unable to play in that game are now back on the squad. George Geanetos, former Routt high player, is coach of the youngsters, and he believes that this parochial will be able to stop Waverly's threat in the first round. Height will not mean as much in grade school games, he believes, as it does in high school and college contests.

Chapin, if it goes true to form, should have things much their own way against Woodson, but little is known of the Woodson lads. They are enthusiastic about the tournament, and spirit goes a long way in these games.

David Prince in Night Cap
Coach John Agger's David Prince team, which is serving as an ex-officio host team, appears in the final game on the opening night's program.

They'll play Franklin, a team which has had the benefits of coaching on the part of the high school coach at Franklin. The Franklin lads have been working on the high school floor in anticipation of giving some of the teams in the grade school tournament a run, and they have come to the conclusion that they'll have to begin in the first game.

David Prince has a bunch of nimble footed youngsters, none of them should have things much their own way. They've been playing basketball both as a grade school team and on intramural teams all winter long, and probably have had more practice than most of the teams with the possible exception of Waverly.

The semi-final round of the tournament will be played Wednesday night, and the consolation and championship games will be played Thursday night.

FAN BREEZES

By

TONIGHT'S the night....The youngsters begin battling for the county grade school basketball championship at the David Prince gymnasium, in case you have forgotten....Adults, for 25c you can see more action than you have seen since the movie of the Battle of Bull Run....Kids, for a dime you can watch your favorites, win or lose....

PICTURES showing the lads in action will be taken during the games....Noisemakers of the mechanical variety are barred, but lungs used to their capacity for cheering purposes....And there'll be entertainment to while away those moments when the ball players aren't doing their stuff....

TOURNAMENT has been on the lips of almost every grade school youngster (and some of the high school students and parents) ever since this one was announced....The enthusiasm has spread and from all indications there are going to be several folks on hand to see the games....

OUR HONOR was attacked the other night after the Millikin-Illinois game by a couple of women who commented on leaving the gymnasium that, according to the paper, Illinois college might have lost the game....Well, it could have....Ask Coach VanMeter how the boys played at Carthage....Wesleyan comes here Saturday....and Illinois might lose that one....

GOOD BASKETBALL is expected from these grade school teams....most of them know the difference between a zone defense and a man-to-man defense, and the difference between a fast break and a slow break....They know what to do and how to get through these defenses....We've seen the David Prince youngsters drop into a zone defense so many times that doing it when they get into high school is an easy matter....We've also seen 'em adopt the man-to-man style when the going became tough in the last quarter when points were needed badly....

YEAH, the crowd that sees these grade school teams in action is probably in for a surprise....Have you ever seen a 100 pounder making one-handed shots from the free throw line....Or anywhere from three or six boys racing from one end of the floor to the other to get the ball to the loop ahead of the defense or a defensive player....Long passes....Long shots....

ST. PATRICKS probably will not play any game on their new floor this year in the parochial school building now being erected on East State street, but the floor for the gymnasium was scheduled to be laid today and the rest of the week....Dedication exercises will be delayed until next year....

ALL SEATS in the University of Illinois gymnasium have been sold in advance for every conference game this year....Who said football paid all of the freight....Basketball has been paying in bigger and better dividends....Maybe there'll be a "new gymnasium that Boudreau built" to match the stadium that "Red Grange built."

BRADLEY has so many good basketball players on its squad this year that A. J. Robertson is carrying a squad of 14 players, five of whom played last year, on trips this year....The five regulars are mostly sophomores....Robertson declares he would rather have Steve Panish than Boudreau, one of his graduates. Dale Daugherty, at Greenfield tells us....

Games This Week.
Tuesday—Perry at Milton; Pearl at Pleasant Hill; Rockport at Kinderhook.
Friday—Nebo at Milton; New Canton at Pearl; Hull at Barry; New Salem at Baylis; Griggsville at Pittsfield.
Saturday—Griggsville at Perry.

Nebo—Pittsfield's Indians, undefeated in the Pike county conference, have the other members stymied in their race for the title, which may be decided either this week or next. M. G. West, secretary of the conference announced Monday after compiling the records of the teams, Pittsfield can clinch the title by defeating Griggsville Friday night, or if they lose that game, can win the crown without a dispute by turning back the second place Nebo team next week.

Pittsfield likewise can drive home the nail clinching the Northern division of the Illinois Valley conference championship this week by winning from Griggsville. The Indians lost only one game, to Winchester last December, in this league.

Nebo remains as the chief threat to the Indians, for if Griggsville should upset the Saukees this week, Nebo would have an excellent chance to take the title by winning from Pittsfield next week.

Illinois Stumbles Over Purdue, 61-34

Game Ties Teams for Big Ten Leadership

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 15.—(P)—Purdue's powerful Bollermakers, with Jewell Young giving a remarkable offensive performance, handed Illinois' basketball team its second defeat of the Big Ten title season tonight, 61 to 34.

The victory gave Purdue a tie in the standings with Illinois, heretofore the conference leader, at six games won and two lost for each club. With Young making shots from all angles and scoring 29 points on 13 field goals and three free throws, Purdue gained easy revenge for a 38-37 defeat by Illinois earlier in the season. During the first six minutes Young caged three baskets and Johnny Sines two, making the score 10-3 for the Bollermakers, and from that point on Illinois had no chance.

Young, scored five field goals in the first half and at the intermission Purdue held a 28-12 margin. In the second half Young bagged eight field goals.

Two Overtime Hoop Battles Witnessed In Y.M.C.A. Loop

Mac's Clothiers Win From Liberty Boys; Brown's Capture Close One

Spectators who witnessed the three games in the Y. M. C. A. League last night got their share of closely fought basketball. Two of the three games were decided by an overtime free throw. The last, though not so close, proved equally interesting.

Clancy, six foot six center for Mac's Clothiers, led his team to victory, collecting 15 points for high scoring honors of the evening. Murgatroyd tossed the deciding free throw, bringing the score to 31-30.

In the second game Brown's Business College took a closely fought battle with the Lukeman Clothiers. Hidden came through in the critical moment of the game to register the free throw that spelled victory for the college. In this game the final count was 25-26.

The I. C. C. Frosh walked away with the Smith Indies, which proved a surprise to everyone. Moxon led the attack with eight points for the winners.

Retire at 70? Why Life Begins at 80! These Men Look Ahead to Achievements Still to Come!

Opie Read, 84.

Mellow memories of the 52 books he has written only spur this popular author on as he continues work on the book which will be his 53d. "So long as a man dreams, he is a creating being," muses the friend of Mark Twain, Eugene Field, and Theodore Roosevelt.

Prince Kimimochi Satonji, 88.

Dr. Adolph Lorenz, 82.

The sensitive, searching hands of this Austrian surgeon have brought relief and soundness to many a crippled child during his lifetime of practice, and his still-merry eyes brought hope with them. Though he still practices, he is just completing his autobiography.

Frank B. Kellogg, 80.

Climaxing a long career in politics with the most ambitious effort to outlaw war that has ever been made, in the international treaty which bears his name, this statesman is still a keen student of the relationship between nations, and contributes his experienced comments on them.

Ambrose Swasey, 90.

At his desk every working day when he is in Cleveland, this outstanding manufacturer of telescopes, optical goods and precision machine tools looks ahead to the setting up this summer of his largest telescope at the McDonald Observatory in west Texas.

Heber J. Grant, 80.

Active head of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormons) whose 600,000 members are scattered all over the world, this patriarch has helped direct its most recent accomplishment, to take care of its own people without recourse to public relief.

Andrew W. Mellon, 82.

Industrialist, financier, public servant, this life-long collector of art masterpieces is today in the course of donating his unsurpassed gallery of paintings to the nation as a nucleus of a national collection. He is still active in the management of one of the world's great fortunes.

George Bernard Shaw, 80.

His sharp tongue scarcely dulled by the years, this most acute of the playwrights of the beginning of this century still manages to throw an occasional shock into interviewers and readers, and his English home is still a mecca for all hunters of the literary lion.

Miss Margaret Cain of this city won first place in the annual Wesley Mathers speech contest held in MacMurray college chapel Monday evening. Miss Claire Colton, also of this city placed second and honorable mention was awarded Betty Forer.

"Tasting the Earth," by James Oppenheim, was the poem used and one short poem which each contestant selected for herself. No coaching was given on any of the work; each girl worked out her selections alone.

Among those entered in the contest were Misses Margaret Cain, Claire Colton, Elizabeth Forer, Katherine Groves, Constance King, Cornelia Ann Miller, Jane Ellen Marrick, Jean Davidson, Yvonne Morris and Betty Nissen.

The judges were Miss Thyra Smith, an alumna of MacMurray and speech teacher in the Chapin high school; Miss Rose Marie Mohrdrick, an advanced speech student at MacMurray and James Fry, a speech student at Illinois college.

BROTHERHOOD DAY WILL BE OBSERVED BY CHURCHES HERE

Programs have been received here from national sources announcing plans for observance of Brotherhood Day during the week beginning Feb. 20. Dr. M. L. Pontius, pastor of the Central Christian church, is preparing to deliver a special sermon on the Brotherhood of Man. It is probable that the day will be observed in a number of other churches.

Annual Brotherhood Day does not debate doctrinal differences. It seeks no least common multiple of faith. It does not advocate church union or common worship. It builds upon the plenitude of each separate faith and bids men to be loyal to the group to which they belong.

Brotherhood Day invites men of established religious conviction to attribute to those who differ from them the same measure of sincerity which they claim for themselves, and to hold such in high respect.

Grace Church Doings

It was Missionary Day in Grace church Sunday with a very positive program throughout the various exercises of the day. Dr. W. R. Johnson, who has spent thirty years in China as a missionary, was guest speaker.

In the joint session of the older departments of the Sunday school a special missionary program was presented with Dr. W. R. Johnson as the speaker.

At the morning preaching service in the presence of an unusually large audience Dr. Johnson brought a very informing message upon conditions in China. Special music supplied by the mixed chorus was a contributing factor to the worshipfulness of the program.

A new experience for Grace church was the taster dinner served in the social parlors at the close of the morning service.

A large company of members and friends enjoyed this feature of the day's activities and were very much impressed with the type of program.

Following the taster dinner the company passed to the Sunday school room which had been very elaborately decorated into booths showing various missionary fields with attendants who explained the work done in that country. A very interesting program was presented.

At 2:30 p. m., a platform meeting was held that was very unique in character. Mrs. Clara Black, president of the Woman's Home Missionary society presided. Several speakers were presented who in a very informing manner gave the story of many of the more important home mission enterprises in this country.

An International Silver Tea was held at 4 p. m., that was enjoyed by a large company.

The missionary efforts of the day were concluded with a young people's rally at 5:30 p. m., at which Dr. Johnson was the speaker.

The closing session of the union preaching mission was held at Brooklyn church with Rev. Williams as the preacher.

Monday at 7:30 p. m., the Second Auxiliary met with Miss Mary Ohm, 219 South Prairie street.

The Young Married People's club will hold their February party with Mr. and Mrs. Morgan of Beardstown. Mrs. Russell Dunlap is in charge of arrangements. Cars will meet at the pastor's study, 7 p. m.

The first of the church night suppers will be held Wednesday evening, a fine meal at 6:15 followed by a very unique program including the Stanley Jones broadcast.

Local Kiwanians Mark Ladies Night At Monday Meeting

Clubmen Entertain Guests at Dinner and Program at Legion Home

The Jacksonville Kiwanis club observed Ladies Night with a dinner and program of entertainment at the American Legion Home last night. The dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock by the Legion Auxiliary and an informal program of entertainment was followed by dancing to music of Morris Craig's orchestra. The tables were appropriately decorated in valentine colors for the occasion.

Mass singing was enjoyed under the leadership of Rev. Morgan Williams, assisted by Claude Jewsbury and Hubert Littler. With Miss Ann Bonansinga as accompanist a short skit was presented by four college girls, and this was followed by accordion numbers by George Cutshall.

Briefly, Rev. Harry Lathian addressed the Kiwanians and the guests on some of the principles of Kiwanis. Rev. Mr. Lathian urged the club to live in a spirit of expectancy, and to do things not alone worthwhile to the members but for the communities in which the clubs exist.

H. H. Green and Robert Kaufmann staged a "Monkey act," to the accompaniment of music by Geo. Cutshall's accordion and a mock court trial followed with Claude Gustine acting as judge. The case was entitled Kiwanis vs. Dr. F. B. Oxtoby, and the jurors included Morgan Williams, Claude Jewsbury, Charles Williamson, Hubert Littler, J. C. Colton and John W. Larson. Hugh Green acted as attorney for the Kiwanis club.

There was a large number of members of the Winchester Kiwanis club in attendance at the meeting.

The program was in charge of Hugh Green.

In Modest Selling

New York, Feb. 15.—(P)—The stock market acted tired today.

Although it had the benefit of vitality in industrial news it allowed itself to be pushed back fractions to around 2 points on modest sales.

Traders had varying explanations for the market's decline and for its failure to develop any punch in a late attempted rally.

Some said the slackening of prices reflected a lack of bids rather than aggressive selling.

This, it was said, may have reflected the conference of secretary Morgan and monetary officials on possible steps to check the inflow of foreign funds.

Others took the view the market's drab behavior sprang from other sources. They cited fears of steel and coal strikes, consumer resistance to higher prices.

An indicator of Wall Street's cautious and unenthusiastic attitude toward the market's analysis said, was unwillingness of steel to rally more aggressively following news of a rise in operations to 81.6 per cent of capacity, the highest point since December, 1929.

Although losses ran from 1 to around 3 points in some industrial leaders near mid-day closing prices were somewhat above their bottoms.

Down fractions to around 2 were U. S. Steel at 109, Westinghouse 156, Bethlehem Steel 81, Chrysler 120, General Motors 68, Consolidated Edison 44, Kennecott 60, New York Central 43, Standard Oil of New Jersey 72 and Union Pacific 132.

Only Sheep, Lambs
Survive Downturn

Chicago, Feb. 15.—(P)—Cattle led the downturn of livestock prices that swept the values of most offerings except sheep and lambs lower today.

Except for strictly choice, prime steers picked up by order buyers for eastern killers at unchanged prices, losses of 25 to 50 cents were fairly general in the cattle trade.

Hogs declined 10 to 15 cents, with spots off more. Top fell to $10.30. Livestock men said the slightest expansion in supplies, usually prevailing on Monday, even though expected by traders, disclosed the basic unreliability of livestock values during the Lenten season. The movement of meat into consumption has not been as satisfactory as it might be and packers have the largest volume in coolers for any corresponding period in 17 years.

Medium to strictly good beefs, which predominated in the 15,000 head run, showed the sharpest break, selling mostly at $10 to $13. Common kinds were unchanged to 25 cents off. Order buyers paid the $14.50 top for light steers which equalled the market peak touched several times in recent weeks.

Fat lambs were about unchanged to a shade higher. The $10.50 top paid by packers was slightly above the previous week's closing level.

Farm and Rural Interest

Illinois Farmers O. K. Ever Normal Granary Program; Elevator Meeting This Week; Turkey Production Systems Studied; Prices Boost Demands for Farm Property

Recommendations to Congress concerning the ever-normal-granary program and other national agricultural policies drawn up by a special conference of national farm leaders which met in the offices of the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., February 8, meets the approval of organized Illinois farmers, according to the Illinois Agricultural Association.

Approving the ever-normal-granary plan as a protection for the consuming public and as a reservoir for retaining seasonal surpluses for the protection of producers' incomes, the conference recommended legislation which would provide for the use of commodity credit loans, a device which would insure the successful operation of the plan. They suggested that the loans be made at upmost price levels to keep prices from declining below parity levels.

The conference asked that the administration of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act be postponed until January 1, 1940 to allow the states ample time in which to organize their administrative agencies.

Legislation to provide benefit payments for diverting lands from one crop to another, should the ever-normal-granary program at any time be insufficient to keep production in line with demand, was asked. Laws of this kind would protect the incomes of producers, the committee maintained.

Stress was laid on the need for taking sub-marginal land out of crop production. It was recommended that this land be managed in such a way as to restore the natural resources of the nation, minimize soil erosion and flood dangers, and add to national parks, forests, and game preserves.

The conference further recommended that the administration of the ever-normal-granary program be placed in the hands of permanently established governmental agencies instead of those agencies now existing which are of temporary and emergency character.

Crop insurance was endorsed by the leaders, provided that a program can be set up on an actuarially sound basis.

Farm tenancy was included in the recommendations as follows: That legislation be adopted authorizing existing agencies related to agriculture or a new agency under the supervision of such existing agencies, to encourage more general holding of farm units by owner-operators. This recommendation differs little from a similar resolution adopted at the Illinois Agricultural Association convention. It stated:

"In large part, the problem (farm tenancy) will be ultimately solved by restoring farm commodity price levels to a fair and permanent basis."

Seventy-five farm leaders from 39 states representing producers of all agricultural commodities took part in the conference at the invitation of Secretary Wallace.

Turkey Production Systems Compared

Some turkey raisers figure it best to buy pullets while others say it is best to produce the eggs and hatch them. The following averages and estimates are advanced as a basis of making the choice of these systems:

A breeding flock of turkeys will consume approximately 150 pounds of feed per bird in a year. The right feed would cost approximately 3 cents a pound, or $4.50 for each laying turkey hen for a year.

Turkey hens are reported to have laid as many as 150 eggs, which means a count on about 50 eggs per hen within the limits of incubation of two egg eggs. The range, however, will usually be from 15 to 40 eggs per hen for the hatching season, or an average of 25 eggs per hen. The cost with the better birds and 50 eggs supplied would be 9 cents, while with the average hens and a production of 25 eggs the cost would be 18 cents per egg.

The cost of 9 cents each for producing turkey eggs tallies pretty close-

Farm and Rural Interest

Illinois Farmers O. K. Ever Normal Granary Program; Elevator Meeting This Week; Turkey Production Systems Studied; Prices Boost Demands for Farm Property

Recommendations to Congress concerning the ever-normal-granary program and other national agricultural policies drawn up by a special conference of national farm leaders which met in the offices of the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., February 8, meets the approval of organized Illinois farmers, according to the Illinois Agricultural Association.

Approving the ever-normal-granary plan as a protection for the consuming public and as a reservoir for retaining seasonal surpluses for the protection of producers' incomes, the conference recommended legislation which would provide for the use of commodity credit loans, a device which would insure the successful operation of the plan. They suggested that the loans be made at upmost price levels to keep prices from declining below parity levels.

The conference asked that the administration of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act be postponed until January 1, 1940 to allow the states ample time in which to organize their administrative agencies.

Legislation to provide benefit payments for diverting lands from one crop to another, should the ever-normal-granary program at any time be insufficient to keep production in line with demand, was asked. Laws of this kind would protect the incomes of producers, the committee maintained.

Lincoln Bargery and Miss Kuhn Married

Ceremony Performed Sunday at Home of Bride on West Douglas

A beautiful mid-day wedding was solemnized Sunday at one o'clock when Miss Ester Lily Kuhn became the bride of Lincoln T. Bargery at the home of the bride, 760 West Douglas avenue.

The young couple marched unaccompanied from an adjoining room to the one in which the ceremony took place, and faced the officiating minister, Rev. William C. Meeker before an altar fragrant with cut flowers, where the single ring ceremony was read.

Immediately after the ceremony, a wedding lunch was served to the group of relatives and friends gathered from various surrounding cities.

Miss Kuhn is the only daughter of Mrs. Emma Kuhn and the late John Kuhn, who was a prominent business man of Pana, Illinois. The bride is well and favorably known. She is in her second year at MacMurray College, where she has majored in Home Economics, and is a member of Lambda Alpha Mu sorority.

Mr. Bargery is associated with his uncle, T. M. Coyle in the Coca-Cola business in Jacksonville, and has been a resident for some time of this city. He was born in St. Louis, and has resided in Springfield and Decatur before coming here. While in Decatur he attended Millikin University for a brief period. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Bargery of Decatur.

The newlyweds will enjoy a week's honeymoon trip through Illinois, returning to make their home in the Kuhn apartment.

Those present at the wedding were Mrs. Emma Kuhn, Jacksonville, Mrs. and Mrs. E. D. Bargery, Mrs. A. P. Cummings, Mrs. Alvah Stark, all of Decatur; Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bargery, Decatur.

Active Applicants For Employment on Decrease in County

Steady Decline Noted Throughout Illinois, with Percentage Here Above Average

The number of active applicants for employment registered in Morgan county as of July, 1936, was 2,261, according to statistics issued Monday by the U. S. Department of Labor. This was a decrease from 2,414 registered in December, 1935. Monday the county office of the National Employment office of Saturday was 2,054. The decrease in the period of about seven months is slightly less than ten per cent.

There was a total 370,884 persons in Illinois who were registered with state and federal employment bureaus as active applicants for employment as of June 30, 1936.

Since then, the department's employment service estimated, there has been a 6 per cent decline in the number of applicants.

The state's largest unemployed group consisted of 92,531 semi-skilled production workers. Second in size was the group of unskilled physical laborers, number 85,577.

Of the state's total of job seekers, the service disclosed, 231,194 were eligible for relief.

Cook county registrants totaled 174,040, as compared with 175,288 in December, 1935. St. Clair county had the largest total downstate, 13,519, compared with 15,116 in December, 1935.

Hear Evidence In Corn Theft Case In Circuit Court

Defendant, Clarence Phillips,
Moves to Suppress Evidence

Contending statements alleged to have been made by him were made after he had been threatened by Morgan county officers, Clarence Phillips, of Bluffs, defendant in a suit in which he is charged with burglary and larceny, moved in circuit court here yesterday that testimony obtained from him at the county jail be suppressed. The trial, which involves the theft of a quantity of corn from Charles Drury, of the Orleans community, began yesterday morning with Judge Walter W. Wright presiding.

Evidence was offered by Phillips to show that statements he is alleged to have made were given after he was threatened with bodily harm at the Morgan county jail. Sheriff Kenneth Woods and Deputy Sheriff Clinton Stromatt denied that any threats were made toward Phillips, while he was held a prisoner by them.

Evidence on the motion was presented after the jury was withdrawn. The jury was withdrawn after Charles Drury, from whom the corn was stolen, had told the jurors about missing the corn and later recovering a portion of it. Ernest McConnell, who was arrested about the same time Phillips was taken into custody, the latter part of last December, has made a confession to his part of the alleged theft.

McConnell is accused of having sold the corn, stolen from the Drury farm, to Phillips. Phillips' attorney in his argument yesterday afternoon, said the defendant had nothing to do with the theft—if corn he bought was stolen Phillips had no knowledge of it at the time of purchase.

Testimony in the absence of the jury Phillips said he was served with a warrant on December 23, 1936 and held until late the next day before being permitted by Morgan county authorities to obtain an attorney. During most of the time he was held at the jail he underwent questioning by sheriff's officers and State's Attorney Oscar Zachary, he said. He was also threatened with bodily harm, he said.

Deputy Sheriff's officers denied threats were made, alleging Phillips told varying stories about corn found in his possession, especially concerning the amount he bought, what he paid for it and how much he sold.

Phillips contended he was not only intimidated while a prisoner at the county jail, but that he was prevented from obtaining an attorney, and that he was offered probation, if he would make a statement. Because of these conditions, he said, he had told varied stories concerning the corn.

Both Sheriff Woods and Deputy Stromatt when placed on the stand made a complete denial of any threats or promises made by them. The sheriff's officers told the court Phillips was not hanged, or manacled in any way, and when he was questioned he was not harmed and no threats were made.

Prior to the selection of the jury in the case an objection was made by the defendant to the filling of the jury panel by sheriff's officers and Arthur Haney, deputy county clerk, was appointed to obtain jurors. The jury that was selected includes George A. Harry, W. H. Anderson, Sid Caldwell, Robert Keating, Floyd Sanders, Frank Taylor, Fred Meyer, John Davenport, Fred Kume, Charles Henry, Elmo Tipps and Amos McCurley.

Hearing of testimony in the case will be continued this morning. An investigation of a prospective juror was ordered by Judge Wright during the court session. Action by Judge Wright came after M. Miller of this city who, it was alleged, had been in the court house during the time the jurors were being selected, and had made effort to become a member of the jury.

State's Attorney Oscar Zachary is assisted in the prosecution of this case by State's Attorney Norbert Hutchens of Winchester.
